TEXAS LOTTERY COMMISSION COMPLETES MOVE TO NEW HEADQUARTERS LOCATION

The Austin Claim Center and Texas Lottery® Drawing Studio are now located at the new George H.W. Bush Building in the Texas Capitol Complex and are open to the public.

AUSTIN – The Texas Lottery and the Charitable Bingo Operations Division have moved to the new Texas Lottery Commission headquarters, located inside the newly-constructed George H.W. Bush Building at 1801 N. Congress Ave. in Austin. The new facility includes the Austin Claim Center and Texas Lottery Drawing Studio. Currently, the closest public parking is available in Garage R at the southeast corner of Brazos St. and E. 18th St. A map and detailed parking information are available here.

“The Texas Lottery Commission is thrilled to make its home at the new state-of-the-art George H.W. Bush Building in the Texas Capitol Complex,” said Gary Grief, executive director of the Texas Lottery. “We look forward to welcoming all visitors to our new location, especially Texas Lottery players.”

Official Texas Lottery drawings can be watched live at the Drawing Studio four times a day, six days a week (Monday-Saturday) at 10 a.m., 12:27 p.m., 6 p.m. and 10:12 p.m. CT from the public viewing window at the northeast corner of N. Congress Ave. and E. 18th St. or from an inside viewing area for visitors.

The new Austin Claim Center is open to the public daily, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. CT. Prize claims at the Austin Claim Center will continue to be processed on a first-come, first-served basis with the exception of certain prizes. As construction continues in the neighborhood, please follow directional signage and enter through the building lobby on E. 18th St., between Congress Ave. and Brazos St.

All Lotto Texas®, Powerball® and Mega Millions® jackpot prizes regardless of the amount, all prizes paid out in annuity payments, and any prize greater than $5 million will continue to be processed by appointment only at the new Texas Lottery claim center in Austin.
